

Ryan Enger, P.A.-C.
Pain Medicine

Mr. Ryan Enger is a board certified physician assistant focusing his skills on Pain Management. He attended the University of St. Francis in Joliet, Illinois for an undergraduate degree and later graduated from the University of St. Francis Physician Assistant Program in Fort Wayne, Indiana. He is board certified by the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants where he focused on trauma and surgery. His primary research interests include new devices and concepts in pain management and non-medicinal treatment for pain.

Mr. Enger is a member of the American Academy of Physician Assistants and the Illinois Academy of Physician Assistants and has worked with Advanced Pain Centers, SC. He currently practices with DuPage Valley Pain Specialists and has been part of the DuPage Medical Group staff since 2007. Mr. Enger is affiliated with Edward Hospital.